

TRANSMITTAL SLIP		DATE
TO:
C/P&PD/OL
ROOM NO.		BUILDING
154		P&PD Bldg.
REMARKS:
REC ✓ HE HE VD ✓
		STAT
cc: OLC Reading File
FROM:
OD/OCR
ROOM NO.		BUILDING
2E 60		HQ.
		STAT

6 January 1977

MEMORANDUM FOR:

Assistant Legislative Counsel

STAT

FROM : H. C. Eisenbeiss
Director of Central Reference

VIA : Associate Deputy Director for Intelligence

SUBJECT : CIA Publications and the Federal Depository Library Program

REFERENCE : Your memo for the record on a meeting with JCP Staff Members, same subject dtd 2 Dec 75 (OLC 75-3112)

1. Attached is a memorandum for the record on a call to the CIA Librarian from Mr. Jim Livesy of the Government Printing Office inquiring why CIA unclassified publications are not included in the Federal Depository Library Program.

2. You may recall that this question came up in November 1975 at which time the ADDI recommended you contact the Joint Committee on Printing (JCP) to determine how serious they were in pushing government-wide compliance with the Program. The referent summarizes the results of your inquiry and paragraph 2 recommends that if the Agency is "bugged" again on this question, we should get in touch with the JCP staff director. Since your memo was issued, the Agency has had other inquiries from libraries as to why Agency publications are not included in the Depository Program. Some of these inquiries have been addressed to individual senators and the replies have gone out through OLC. Others have been prepared in this office for Mr. Falkiewicz's signature or by the Information and Privacy Staff in the DDA. All of these replies have referenced our participation in the Library of Congress' DOCEX Project which we feel complies with the "spirit" of the Depository Program.

3. The issue of Agency participation in the Program will be raised regularly by libraries because libraries would prefer to receive Agency publications free rather than paying the DOCEX subscription fee.

SUBJECT: CIA Publications and the Federal Depository Library Program

As you know, many governmental publications are not part of the Depository Program. I recommend you contact the JCP Staff regarding the Livesy call. I understand Mr. Livesy works very closely with that Committee and the JCP Staff may want to alert him or OCR can call him after you have talked with JCP. Since the issue is a recurring one, the Agency position should be reaffirmed periodically.

STAT

H. C. Eisenbeiss

Attachment:
As stated

Distribution:

- Orig. & 1 - Addressee
- 1 - ADDI
- 1 - CIA Librarian
- 1 - C/P&PD/OL
- 2 - OD/OCR file

5 January 1977

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

FROM :
Chief, CIA Library

STAT

SUBJECT: Telephone Call From J. Livsey, GPO, re Agency
Publications and Depository Libraries

On 3 January 1977, I received a telephone call from John Livsey who said he was head of the depository libraries program at GPO. Prompted by a letter from the University of Connecticut Library, he wanted to know why unclassified Agency publications were not sent to GPO for inclusion in the depository libraries program. He further questioned the establishment of our arrangement with DOCEX stating that libraries were charged $225 for Agency publications which should be sent without charge to at least regional depositories. Mr. Livsey asked who had set up the DOCEX arrangements and wanted the name of "the Agency publications officer." I responded by saying that Agency publications were produced in support of official Agency business and not published originally for public use and, therefore, not in the purview of the depository library act. The DOCEX project offered as its prime objective a special service to libraries to provide copies of non-depository documents and the service includes products from many agencies, not just CIA. I told Mr. Livsey that the Agency had more than one publications officer and that in my capacity as liaison officer with the Library of Congress I would discuss his inquiry with other Agency personnel and would call him back or have someone else call him.

STAT